

Due to its philosophy and commitment to Food Safety, LABINDERB Management bases its Management System, now implemented and regularly maintained, on the UNE-EN ISO 22000:2018 standard, Food Safety Management System, based on the quality assurance model pursuant to the UNE-EN ISO 9001:2015 Standard.

In this respect, our System Policy appropriate to the purpose of the company is defined through the following declaration and commitment:

1. Disseminate the Policy, comply with it in the entire context of the organization and ensure it is available to customers and suppliers. Maintain internal and external communication channels to ensure all aspects of our products related to food safety.
2. Effectively develop and maintain a Food Safety Management System, with measurable, reviewable objectives, as well as defined goals, which promote food safety at all times.
3. Guarantee that LABINDERB complies with all the applicable legal and regulatory requirements, as well as those agreed with our clients, in terms of food safety, manufacturing with the maximum possible environmental, ethical, multicultural and labour responsibility.
4. Develop a mentality of continuous improvement in the effectiveness of processes and products. Provide the necessary resources and training to all staff to prevent situations that may affect product safety. Achieve involvement, awareness and guarantee the competence of our workers, maintaining an optimal work climate to ensure that all our employees have high standards of professionalism and motivation within the strictest professional ethics.

To achieve all of the above points, the Management maintains this Policy up to date by means of planned reviews of the Food Safety Management System.
